

Timothy Taylor

Timothy Taylor is the Chief Executive Officer and Founder of Data Brilliance Software LLC. He drives the company's strategy and execution. Timothy has over 18 years in the IT software solutions. Timothy attended Roberts Wesleyan College and James Madison University. Before entrepreneurship and devoting his work full-time to Data Brilliance software, he held high-ranking positions for multibillion dollar firms at Xerox, Ametek Power Instruments, and Aerospace Firth Rixon. After that Timothy decided to go into business for himself and started Taylor Software Co., soon to be known as Data Brilliance Software. Timothy's first year into entrepreneurship, he made over $325,000 in sales being the sole member in his Batavia based company (Moved to Rochester in 2018). His second year into business, achieved over a half million dollars in sales which enabled him to hire 7 employees. With continuous growth in sales and currently 60 employees, Data Brilliance has stepped into business with local and federal government contraction in Information Technology. Timothy is very active in the community with his latest efforts of donating over 800 meals to the University of Rochester Strong Hospital essential workers.

Some of Data Brilliances Clients:

Action For A Better Community

Strong Medical Hospital

Cleveland Medical Clinic

Sim Medical Facility and Billing

Timothy holds summer education programs teaching software development and coding.

Outside of software and business, Timothy enjoys mentoring youth in life and basketball programs. Teaching them teamwork and execution of plays/plans. He also enjoys writing books with his latest work "The Shot sent me to Software".